

Women, gender and migration

Editors for this number

Linda GUERRY

& Françoise THÉBAUD

Editor for the English online edition

Siân REYNOLDS

This number of Clio is devoted to a topic of considerable political and scholarly interest at the present time: it considers the historical relations between women, gender and migration. Drawing on fresh sources and approaches, the articles gathered here are concerned with large-scale migrations, from Antiquity to the very contemporary period: they advance new interpretations of migratory movements, and demonstrate the agency of women migrants as well as the gender-related constraints within migrating populations. They also explore the ways in which migration may affect femininity and masculinity and socio-sexual roles, using the concept of the re-ordering of gender.

Editorial

Linda GUERRY, Françoise THÉBAUD

Women and gender in migration

Forum

Why French Academic Journals are Protesting

Dossier

Marie-Adeline LE GUENNEC
Women's mobility and migration in Roman Antiquity: a fragmentary history

Irene BARBIERA

Iron and blood: gender and the great migrations of the Early Middle Ages (fourth to sixth century)

Virginie ADANE

From the United Provinces to the Hudson Valley. The reordering of gender relations in New Netherland (1624-1664)

Elisa CAMISCIOLI

“Traffic in women” as migration history: gendered mobility between France and Cuba (early twentieth century)

Stéphanie CONDON

Individual strategies and state strategies: the shaping of French Caribbean emigration by gender relations

Complementary points of view

Chiara QUAGLIARIELLO

Giving birth – or not – in Lampedusa: stories of national and international migration

Joachim HÄBERLEN

Flight to freedom? Narratives of Muslim women fleeing to Germany

Isabelle LACOUE-LABARTHE

& Alice LACOUE-LABARTHE
Emine Sevgi Özdamar's Istanbul-Berlin trilogy: gender and writing between two worlds

Current research

Nancy GREEN

Four ages of migration studies: men, women, gender and sexuality

Documents

Élise VALLIER-MATHIEU

African-American migration: the autobiography of Jane Edna Hunter (1882-1971)

Linda GUERRY

Reuniting families separated by migration: narratives of the Immigrants' Protective League in Chicago, 1931

Andrew DJ SHIELD

Turks and Moroccans in the Netherlands during the sexual revolution (1964-1979): a photographic analysis

Women, gender and migration

This English edition is realised with the support of the CNRS/INSHS

ENGLISH EDITION

Belin:

Testimony

Marianne AMAR

Women migrants at the museum. Asking questions of history.

Interview with Linda GUERRY & Françoise THÉBAUD

Varia

Isabelle Matamoros

Learning to be a good reader. The ordinary reading practices of a young bourgeoisie in 1820s France

Solange LAPEYRIÈRE

Those who leave and those who stay. The “asylum careers” of women confined to asylums in nineteenth-century France